

Welcome Sunflowers

The second day at IIS was equally thrilling for today there was an extension in the family, the new CLSP scholars had joined this family. The seniors welcomed them in the conventional manner acquainting them with the cultural ethos of IIS, familiarising them with the sunflower attributes of radiance, brilliance, flexibility, adaptability and compatibility. Yellow, the signature of brightness, hope and opportunity. Sunflower also signifies durability, it does not lose its fragrance, instead, is used to extract oil. So are our Sunflowers, a few as compared to the vast sea of CBSE, but, they make their mark and are sometimes intimidating. The family bond was instantly established betwixt the seniors and the juniors. We look forward to a long lasting relationship that goes beyond school life.
