Dear Parents,

As part of our ongoing career guidance program for Grade 11 students, we recently conducted a session titled "Aligning Academics and Extracurriculars with Career Goals" conducted by Mr. Madhusudan Joshi. This session built upon last year's career planning activities and focused on helping students act now — by connecting what they study and the activities they choose with their future career goals.

During the session, students:

- Reflected on their career path using insights from previous assessments.
- Learned how to align academic focus, extracurricular participation, and skill-building for stronger college and career readiness.
- Explored real examples from Science, Commerce, and Humanities streams showing how thoughtful choices today build future opportunities.
- Participated in an interactive activity called "Check Your Alignment," where they identified one small step they can take this month to move closer to their goal.

We encourage you to discuss this exercise with your child and help them plan their next steps — whether it's improving academic consistency, joining a club, volunteering, or initiating a personal project. These small, consistent actions not only strengthen college applications but also build clarity and confidence in career decision-making.

We believe that when students, parents, and the school work together, each child can discover and pursue a path that's personally meaningful and future-ready.

Warm regards

Nidhi Mishra
